WHAT MADE THE 60S AND 70S SO SPECIAL?

Many things happened in the 60s and 70s that has made our society what it is today: LGBTQ+ rights, the civil rights movement, the first man to land on the moon and the assassinations of US President John F Kennedy and Martin Luther King, Cuban Missile Crisis. The 1960s were a decade of revolution and change in politics, music and society around the world. It started in the United States and the United Kingdom and spread to Europe and other parts of the world. The 70s were famous for bell-bottoms and the rise of disco, but it was also an era of economic struggle, cultural change and technological innovation.

PART 3.

In conclusion, I have learnt a lot about the 60s and 70s, many things were different back then like racism, homophobia and sexism (not everyone was accepted). Even though we still have some things like that now, there is not much of it like there was back then. People have learnt to accept people for who they are and what they look like.
